

The George Washington University Religion Department Presents
The David and Sherry Berz Endowed Lecture

Eman Quotah, author of Bride of the Sea

"An important addition to American fiction." -The Washington Post

"A sensitive portrayal of becoming American—both the shedding of one's culture for the sake of fitting in and the difficult task of finding one's place, especially as an Arab American. . . . A clear-eyed debut from a writer who doesn't shy away from the messiness of family life."
-The Star Tribune

Thursday, December 2, 2021 • 5-6:30 pm • GW Student Center Amphitheater

Please Join Us - RSVP Today!

Email religion@gwu.edu for more information

This event is supported by the following GW departments and programs:
Arabic Language, Classical & Near Eastern Languages & Civilizations, Creative Writing, English, the Global Affairs and Religion Network (GARNET), and the Institute for Middle Eastern Studies